

A photograph of Tara Robertson, a woman with vibrant pink and purple wavy hair, wearing white-rimmed glasses and a pink blazer, smiling warmly.

The Leadership Looking Glass

Our stories reveal what matters most

AUTHENTIC LEADERSHIP IS GROUNDED IN YOUR VALUES.

Join Tara Robertson for a powerful journey through three career-defining moments: two wild successes and one spectacular burnout. These aren't theoretical case studies: they're raw, real experiences that reveal exactly how values drive performance and fulfillment.

During this engaging session, you'll actively participate in identifying the values hidden within these real-world stories and learn a practical framework you can use right away. This session will revolutionize how you connect and lead.

YOU'LL WALK AWAY KNOWING HOW TO:

- Uncover your values through your own stories
- Spot values misalignment before burnout hits
- Hear what's really important to your colleagues, customers and loved ones

Come ready to reflect, engage, and discover what your own stories reveal about what matters most.

Authentic leadership starts with knowing what you actually stand for.

Contact:

tara@tararobertson.ca

<https://tararobertson.ca/speaking>